In the event of inclement weather conditions, the College may delay opening, close for the day, or close early. The decision of such disruptions of operation will be made by the President and communicated to the college community by the Office of Student Affairs or a designee. In the event that such an emergency occurs during non-working hours, employees are required to listen to the radio or television whenever announcements are imminent.

Also, the campus community will receive text message alerts via the e2Campus emergency text messaging system. This system allows students, staff, and faculty to sign up at no cost to receive text messages regarding School Emergencies, School Closings, Inclement Weather and School Announcements. Students, staff, and faculty must register their telephone numbers in order to participate in the program. Registration may be done by logging on to the campus Home Page and Clicking on e2Campus. Please note that if you have a telephone provider that charges for text messaging, you will incur text messaging charges for messages received from the college. If you change your telephone number you will need to update the information in the e2Campus System.

Additionally, the College will maintain a 24-Hour Communication Center at (901) 435-1464 (Security) to inform students, faculty, and staff when the school will re-open for classes. All previously scheduled events (i.e. athletic games, etc.) at the college will be canceled until further notice. Students may also utilize their campus email for notices and updates.

CMA INFORMATION SESSION

IMA’s Certification for Accountants and Financial Professionals in Business

The Association of Accountants and Financial Professionals in Business

Institute of Management Accountants (IMA)

Monday, March 19 2018 12:00 noon -1:00 pm

Renaissance Building 2nd floor

For more than 40 years, the CMA® (Certified Management Accountant) certification has been the global benchmark for management accountants and financial professionals. A representative from the Association of Accountants and Financial Professionals in Business will be on campus to discuss testing for the Certified Management Accountant (CMA) certification.

⇒ Studying account: If you earn CPA certification, you’ll likely have jobs preparing and reporting data for audits, taxes, and financial statements.
⇒ Studying Finance and/or Accounting: If you want to interpret that data and recommend strategies? Or be a decision-maker? That’s when CMA certification can prove helpful and lucrative.

What You Can Do With CMA Certification

- Financial Analyst - Avg. Annual Salary: $55,400
- Financial Planner - Avg. Annual Salary: $50,128
- Cost Accountant - Avg. Annual Salary: $50,899
- Corporate Controller - Avg. Annual Salary: $74,032
- Chief Financial Officer (CFO) - Avg. Annual Salary: $117,840

What Else Can You Do With CMA Certification?

Other positions that would benefit from having a CMA include a systems analyst, management consultant, business analyst, and many others.

Information session: Monday, March 19, 2018 12:00 noon-1:00 pm

Is a certification right for you?

CMAs earn 28% more in the U.S. than noncertified professionals.* In fact, a 22-year-old CMA could enjoy more than $500,000 in additional lifetime earnings. More importantly, the certification is a pathway to a more successful business career: one that opens doors, builds confidence, closes skills gaps, and lets you tap into a network of 100,000 professionals around the globe. As our CMAs will tell you, it’s an investment that pays a lifetime of dividends and lets you rise above the competition. *IMA US Salary Survey, March 2017
